" . . . this book expertly manages a sci-fi conceit that is as bizarre as it is ultimately plausible." -- Kirkus Reviews

- What happens when you combine the power of science with religion?
- Will humans misuse optogenetics to control the human mind?
- Will we ever be able to invent a time machine and if so, why haven't we seen anyone coming back from the future?
- Why most ancient religions predict a major apocalypse at the end?
- An ancient Abrahamic prophecy predicts that the sun will rise up from the west at the end time, what will you do if you woke up one day and realized the prophecy was true?

This is the story of Hast, a young theologian from the Middle East. He lives happily with his wife until he suddenly realizes that their life is at risk and all the prophecies he read about the end-day are about to come true. Together with an Interpol agent, Mark, they attempt to reveal the truth behind the healing power of a famous faith-healer. Hast suspects the healer to be the final prophecy of his Abrahamic faith: "the Antichrist". His quest to uncover the truth leads him to the unexpected.
